

Council give young people a 'meaningful voice'

DORCHESTER'S young people are being given a forum for their views to be heard.

The town now has a Youth Council – which will put forward its own ideas as well as comment on council plans.

Mayor Stella Jones, who is behind the new body, says it will give young people from the town a “meaningful voice”.

She says she is confident it will also inform and change the way town councillors act and encourage youngsters to engage with the democratic process.

“When I first became a councillor there were people in their twenties sitting; today the youngest on the town council is probably in their 40s, most of us are a lot older.

“It’s important for young people, the future of the town, to have a meaningful voice.”

Mrs Jones says she is delighted that the idea, which she floated last year when elected as Mayor, has taken off.

The Youth Council has around a dozen young people from the town who will start the process. All have to be aged between 13 and 18 to take participate. Most signed up after joining workshops organised by the town council at the Thomas Hardy School.

“Luckily the core group is in the middle of that age range, 14 to 16, so are likely to be with us for some time,” said Mrs Jones.

The Youth Council will meet once every eight weeks, immediately before the regular full town council meeting. They will discuss the same agenda as town councillors and send a representative to the town council meeting to express the Youth Council view on agenda items.

Initially the group will be tasked with writing its own constitution with a view to having elections within two years.

“How the Youth Council is run is up to those involved;

by Trevor Bevens

they may want to set up their own committees and sub committees and we would also expect them to have their own agenda and objectives,” said Mrs Jones.

She also points out that the Youth Council may be in a position to apply for grants and other funding which is not open to the Town Council, to help with their own projects.

The Mayor, Councillor Molly Rennie and Councillor Peter Mann will all act as mentors for the new body with Deputy Town Clerk, Steve Newman, helping the administration and offering guidance on running the body.

Mr Newman says several ideas have already come out of the workshops leading up to the formation of the Youth Council.

“At the first meeting there was some discussion about people leaving dog’s mess in play areas and one of the participants asked why we didn’t provide bags as well as dog bins. We hadn’t thought of that, but have now done so, as well as offering plastic gloves, and it’s made a difference,” said Mr Newman.

Another suggestion, put forward at a Middle Schools workshop day, was to provide trampolines at the King’s Road and Castle Park play areas – something which the town council also acted on.

“They are great ideas, which we might not have come up with, but which were needed. We will make sure we listen to the ideas from the Youth Council and act on them, where we can,” said Mr Newman.

The idea of the Youth Council has been welcomed by West Dorset MP Oliver Letwin and the town’s Waitrose is to encourage its junior staff to take part.

RETIRED English teacher Audrey Vivian moved to Lyme Regis from Somerset with her husband, the Reverend Keith Vivian, a former headmaster, in the 1980s, having previously visited the town regularly for holidays.

The couple immediately threw themselves into community life and Audrey has since been involved with a huge number of local organisations, most notably as a former chairman of the governors of St Michael's Primary School and member of the Parochial Church Council. Her latest role is chairman of the Lyme Regis & District Food Bank.

Audrey and Keith have been married for more than 60 years and have two children – a son who is a lawyer and a daughter who is a doctor – and five grandchildren.

● WHY did you move to Lyme Regis?

We bought a flat in Broad Street and came here on holidays. We got to know a lot of people, both locals and visitors, through having a beach hut on the seaford. Our children came down for holidays, it was the best beach nearby and the family liked it. When Keith retired, we bought our house in Sidmouth Road.

● TELL us about the Lyme Regis and District Food Bank?

The food bank was set up last year by LymeForward as an emergency provider of food for people in difficulties of all ages and in all different kinds of circumstances. We're very lucky to have it under the umbrella of LymeForward because it means we already have a base, which is not something every organisation has. We also have lots of willing volunteers and varying expertise which we can use in the food bank.

It is well supported by the town council, as well as the medical centre, schools and churches, which can refer people to the bank. We are trying to pull all the relevant services together to do something really, really good.

I think we're starting to get rid of some of the misconceptions about it – it's not just about people on benefits but it can help people in all kinds of situations, including those who have just returned from hospital and have no way of going food shopping. I think the need for food parcels is getting greater, but that may just be because they didn't know about us before.

We are always looking for volunteers and hope to offer simple cookery lessons in the future to make sure people have the knowledge needed to cook for themselves.

● WHAT do you like about Lyme Regis?

That an ordinary person like myself is able to make a difference. It's not a closed shop, you can do the things you like because there's so much going on. You can make a difference in Lyme – we have always supported everything and our children have to.

● WHAT do you think is missing from the town?

It's very difficult to shop cheaply in Lyme. You have to be able to get out of Lyme to get to the big supermarkets and sometimes there is a lack of public transport – that's why it's important for our bus services to continue.

● WHAT local organisations are you a member of?

As well as the governors of St Michael's and the Parochial Church Council, the main thing I support is Action Medical Research for Children. I attend a book club, ladies lunch club, Keith is a member of Rotary and I was on the Inner Wheel when we had one, I was a trustee of the Town Mill for 13 years, I'm a member of the Lyme Regis Society, Lyme Regis Development Trust and the U3A, and I volunteer in the Jubilee Pavilion.

● DURING you work with varying organisations, what achievements are you most proud of?

The two things I am most proud of in Lyme is my work with Lyme Regis Development Trust to set up a SureStart children's centre in King's Way and being nominated as an Honoured Citizen as part of the diamond jubilee celebrations – I was really touched by that.

To volunteer with the Lyme Regis and District Food Bank or for more information contact LymeForward on 01297 444387.

Police search for owner of Hardy poems

POLICE in Dorchester are trying to find the owner of around 50 Thomas Hardy poems recovered in the town.

They say the owner may not realise the poems are missing and could have been stolen. They are hand-written on white card, each 36cm by 41cm in size. Approximately 50 representations of Thomas Hardy poems were seized by police in Dorchester on January 2nd.

Police Constable Mark Powell, of Dorchester police, said: "We hope that someone recognises them from the image and will help us to find the rightful owner.

"It is possible that they have been stolen and the owner has not yet realised that they are missing.

"Please contact us as soon as possible if you have any information that may assist with my investigation."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 02:308.

Alternatively, call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111 where mobile phone tariffs may apply.

New support group for young dementia sufferers

NEW groups for younger people with dementia, in their 40s, 50s and 60s, are being started in the Dorchester area.

If there is demand the service could spread to Weymouth and other parts of West Dorset.

The new peer support group, run by Alzheimer's Society, will be open to people diagnosed with any form of dementia under the age of 70, their friends, family and carers.

The society say the group will offer an opportunity for people who have been diagnosed with dementia at a younger age and their carers to meet others in a friendly informal environment over a cup of tea and cake.

Alzheimer's Society staff will be there to provide information and support for people affected by memory problems.

Jo Malyon, Services Manager for Alzheimer's Society in Dorset, said: "We are delighted to launch this service for younger people living with dementia. The number of people receiving a diagnosis under the age of 70, in some cases in their 40's, is increasing rapidly. We recognise that their needs are often different from the older age group that we also support. For example, they may still be working and have children living at home.

"This new service may be a real lifeline to these people and provide the opportunity to meet other people in a similar situation, share experiences, find out more information, but also importantly, to have fun!"

The first support group will be on Monday, February 10th from 10.30am to noon at The Engine Room, Poundbury Garden Centre, Peverell Avenue, Dorchester.

The group will then be held in various cafes in West Dorset on a fortnightly basis and will also include venues in Weymouth if there is a demand from that area.

If you have dementia or care for someone with dementia and would like to know more about this service, then please contact Jo Malyon on 01202 716393 or dorset@alzheimers.org.uk.

New machine to improve cancer suregry at hospital

BREAST surgeon Tomasz Graja and day surgery nursing team Colette Papazian, Rachel Wood, Sharon Jarvis, Fig Chalk, Lisa Ismaili and Nicky Wilsher with the new Faxitron machine

A NEW machine which can x-ray breast cancer patients during surgery will improve the success rate of operations at Dorset County Hospital.

It means that surgeons will be able to ensure that all cancerous tissue has been removed.

The portable Faxitron machine provides instant confirmation of a successful biopsy procedure, displaying images on a high resolution monitor.

Surgeon Tomasz Graja explains that this is particularly useful in ensuring lesions which cannot be felt are successfully removed: "Non-palpable cancers, usually found on screening mammograms, are the most difficult to remove," he said.

"The Faxitron machine allows us to x-ray during surgery and confirm that all the cancerous tissue has been removed.

"The hospital already had one

Faxitron machine shared between radiology, theatres and histopathology.

"This additional machine means that our patients will not experience any delays if one machine is out of action for upgrades or repairs.

"We are really pleased to have received this equipment for the benefit of our patients and are very grateful to the trust for this investment."

Domestic abuse campaign to be repeated this summer

A DEDICATED operation to tackle domestic abuse in Dorset during the Christmas and New Year period was a success and will be repeated during the FIFA World Cup in the summer and again over the festive period.

A total of 105 high-risk victims of domestic violence were identified in Dorset as requiring home visits under Operation Maple – which ran throughout December 2013.

During the Christmas and New Year period Dorset Police reported a decrease in Domestic abuse incidents of five per cent compared to the same time the previous year.

In all 73 victims were visited and spoken to. A further 29 people were visited and were either not seen or did not reply. Three were not visited. No arrests were made.

Inspector Steve Thorpe said: "The majority of people we spoke to in person were supportive of what we were trying to achieve and were grateful for our visit.

"We also collected a good deal of information and received reports of further crimes.

"Dorset Police has seen a rise in the number of reported cases of domestic abuse in recent years and I believe this is largely due to victims willing to report it to the police and take action against the perpetrator.

"We have taken a number of steps to help support victims in reporting these crimes and we work in close partnership with other support agencies. We have a dedicated team of specially trained and experienced officers and police staff to respond to and investigate domestic abuse and to provide the best possible support and protection to victims and their families.

"I would urge anyone suffering domestic abuse to come forward and report it so that action can be taken to keep them safe.

"I would also warn anyone committing an act of domestic abuse – you will be arrested and dealt with robustly. Domestic abuse offences can attract significant custodial sentences.

"In the future we intend to inform victims of domestic violence that they can expect a welfare visit from a police officer as part of Operation Maple.

"It is our intention that Operation Maple visits will be carried out during the FIFA World Cup in June and July and again over the Christmas and New Year period."

Businesses await tourism results

LOCAL businesses will know by the end of the week how well they have done in the finals of South West Tourism Excellence Awards.

The Awards Ceremony will be hosted for the first time at the Holiday Inn in Plymouth on January 30th.

This year is no exception and I wish all entrants well and offer both congratulations and good luck to our finalists as they progress to the regional event and national finals."

The local finalists are – Greenwood Grange, near Dorchester in the self-catering establishment of the year category; Dorset Seafood Festival, Weymouth in the tourism event of the year; Highlands End Holiday Park, Bridport in the Holiday Park of the Year category; Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre for Tourist Information Service of the Year and the Bridge House Hotel at Beaminster for best small hotel.

Beer festival tickets sell out in record time

TICKETS for this year's Dorchester Beerex have sold out – in record time.

The popular event, being held in the Corn Exchange over the weekend of February 7th and 8th, is usually a sell-out, but this year organisers say the tickets for all sessions have gone in double-quick time.

Campaign for Real Ale bar manager Rich Gabe said: "This year the ticket sell response has been phenomenal...it's a shame there's nowhere bigger to hold the festival in town. This clearly emphasises the popularity of real ale, cider and the event."

Beerex chairman Ellis Ford said: "I am overwhelmed by the response of local companies and the amount of breweries that give us barrel sponsorship, every barrel is sponsored which will make a huge difference to the monies raised towards Gully's Place, our nominated charity."

By Trevor Bevins

Lucky drinkers will get to sample beers from among others; Dorset brewers Artbrew, Sixpenny, Small Pauls, Palmers and Bournemouth. Plus a large selection from the rest of the UK including, Dirty Stop out Stout from Welsh brewer Tiny Rebel; Young Pretender from the Isle of Skye brewery and Swedish Blonde from the Maxim brewery, County Durham.

A total of 85 ales we be on offer plus a large selection of cider and perry, including Dorset cider makers Twisted Cider.

The festival is run by a committee of West Dorset CAMRA and Dorchester Round Table. This year the festival is sponsored for the four consecutive year by local brewery, Piddle, who will be in attendance all weekend with a selection of their beers.

Organisers are still looking for donations for raffle prizes, with all proceeds from the raffle going to the Round Table Children's Wish Appeal.

If interested please call Dave Harris on 07977918130.

Women encouraged to sign up for Race for Life

ENTRIES have opened for women to join in Dorchester's annual Race for Life – a fun run event at Kingston Maurward for Cancer Research.

This year's event will be held on Sunday, May 18th over a 5km traffic-free course.

The annual event, along with other similar events held throughout the country, raise millions of pounds for research into treatments for cancer – something which more than 80 people are diagnosed with every day in the South West.

The charity's Dorchester events manager Lisa Sweeting said: "We know how committed Dorchester women can be when they really make up their minds to do something.

"We want to harness that power to stop cancer in its tracks, by raising money for life-saving research."

She added: "Race for Life is non-competitive. It's not about being fit or fast. Most women are able to walk 5k in an hour while chatting and having fun. Or they can choose to jog, run or even dance around the course if they prefer."

Almost 1,500 took part in last year's event, raising £76,000. The target this year is at least £80,000. To enter visit – www.raceforlife.org.

Fantastic art coup!

BREWERS Quay are handling the sale of an oil painting by Trevor Lawrence, a renowned local artist who passed away in 2012.

Lawrence, who was born in London, lived in Weymouth for 20 years, but spent his younger life acting, making appearances in Dr Who and Coronation Street.

His paintings still sell for thousands today, having been purchased by David Bowie, Clive Owen and the late Claire Raynor.

The painting was entered into the auction by a local lady for whom the painting was commissioned in 2005.

The painting is titled 'Women Alone' and is loosely based on the view from Chesil Cove and Portland.

This will be auctioned at Brewers Quay Auction House on Saturday 8th February at 10.30am, don't miss this once in a lifetime opportunity.

Come on down to view between Monday 3rd Feb and Fri

'Get That Job' funding

FREE training is available for 50 job seekers following LymeNet's successful bid for Dorset funding. The scheme called 'get that job' will complement the other qualification training that LymeNet offers (English, Maths and IT) by being geared specifically to gaining knowledge and experience relevant to the workplace.

Peter Jeffs (Centre Manager for LymeNet) says "Many employers have found that even well-qualified people who have not been in employment have had no chance to pick up essential workplace skills. These might include writing reports, time management skills, using essential office equipment (eg current photo-copiers), e-mail protocol, presenting yourself well, telephone skills, customer care and many other skills. Not only people who have never worked can benefit, but also those who are long-term unemployed, those now having to find very different work, or people returning to work after children or after having to care for someone else"

The requirements of each individual will be assessed by our fully qualified careers advisors and a training plan (approximately 8 hours of free training) will be agreed. This is available for anyone over school leaving age looking for work.

LymeNet also offers formal qualifications in English, Maths and IT, and for many people, especially those out of work, these courses are free. We have a range of other beginners courses and workplace training on IT.

Get a 'sheducation'

DORCHESTER residents can take part in a little 'sheducation' at the Poundbury Garden Centre.

The Police have put up their shed at the garden centre, equipped with anti-theft devices following an increase in the number of shed and outbuilding break-ins throughout the town.

Inspector Steve Marsh says that while most crimes in the county town are declining thefts from outbuildings has increased over the same period last year.

The Inspector says items taken are usually quickly sold on and has asked for information from anyone offered goods which they suspect may have been stolen.

Wildlife work parties

REGULAR work parties are being held each week by Dorset Wildlife Trust around West and South Dorset.

The work will include scrub clearance, hedge laying and gorse coppicing.

On Thursday 30th the group will be at the Kingcombe Meadows Farm, Clift Lane, Toller Porcorum from 10am until 3.30pm

For more information about the Kingcombe Farm work parties contact Dorset Wildlife Trust warden Steve Masters on 07557 561624.

New recruits

ODEON Dorchester manager Alan Escott with new recruits Anastasia Grundy, Abigail Connolly and James Payton

THREE new apprentices are finding out about life behind the projector at Dorchester's Odeon Cinema.

The company, which opened at Brewery Square in 2012, has appointed three more recruits to join its one year apprenticeship programme.

The appointment of Anastasia Grundy, Abigail Connolly and James Payton takes the Odeon Dorchester's apprentices to seven.

Anastasia, 19, Abigail, 19, and James, 21, join the company's educational programme as apprentice team members and will be supported by both the cinema and training provider Lifetime Training to complete the nationally recognised and accredited NVQ level two in customer service.

The new recruits will gain high-quality vocational training through learning on the job from the management team the cinema.

All three will work in a variety of front-of-house duties including ticket sales, food and beverage sales as well as directing guests into the auditoriums.

Alan Escott, general manager at the Odeon said: "We strongly believe in growing our own local talent and extend a huge welcome to Anastasia, Abigail and James.

"We recognise that apprenticeships and training programmes provide people with an invaluable opportunity to develop their skills whilst benefiting from structured training and qualifications they can use for the rest of their careers.

"By completing an apprenticeship with the Odeon we aim for trainees to become extremely employable having gained skills and work experience at the largest and best-known cinema chain in the UK and Ireland."

Black Dog for sale

THE only village pub at Broadmayne, the Black Dog, is being offered for sale.

But the district council has used its powers to stop it being sold on the open market for six weeks from January 22nd to give the community a chance to see if it wants to take over the building.

West Dorset District Council is using powers under the Localism Act which is designed to help retain local shops, pubs and halls.

The Main Street pub is listed as an asset of community value under the Act 2011 which will stop any sale until mid-March.

During this time any community interest group can notify the council of its intention to bid for building.

Notification of a community interest bid should be made in writing to Community Planning, Dept. of Environment, South Walks House, Dorchester, DT1 1UZ or via communityplanning@westdorset-weymouth.gov.uk.

Badger cull meeting

THE Dorset Badger/Bovine groups holds its next meeting on Wednesday, February 5th at 7.30pm in Goldie's Bar in High East Street, Dorchester.

The group is appealing to its members, and supporters, to attend following fears expressed last week by the Police and Crime Commissioner that the county may well be in line for a badger cull in the coming months.

Exam results rise

BETTER exam results has seen the Thomas Hardye School climb from eighth to six place among the county's secondary schools.

The school saw a three per cent increase in the number of pupils getting five A* to C grades at GCSE or equivalent including English and maths. 68 per cent achieved the standard.

Tennis courts for gardens

JUNIOR tennis courts are to be created on the former bowling green in the Borough Gardens.

The green, which was last used for bowling more than three years ago, was initially converted to a putting green but never became popular.

Dorchester Town Council will allow children to use the courts for free. They should be in use in time for the summer holidays.

But the use of the green for tennis is not likely to be a long-term prospect because of the cost of maintaining the grass. More permanent ideas for the site will be considered later in the year.

Among the ideas is a previous suggestion of mini-golf.

Get to know trees

A SIX-week course, Getting to Know Trees, led by Geoff Jones starts on January 29th at the Dorford Centre.

The WEA course will be followed with two one day courses on Modern Masters - Matisse, led by David Westhead on February 1st and one on March 8th, Exploring Antiques, led by Brian Wright.

For more information on any of the courses visit www.wea-dorchester.co.uk or call 01305 269510.

Drive-Thru Tesco

DORCHESTER Tesco is hoping to build a drive-through building in its Weymouth Avenue car park.

The building, known as a pod, will be used by customers using the store's click and collect service, driving to the building to pick up their pre-ordered shopping.

A planning application for the building, which will be to the west of the main store, towards the Weymouth-Dorchester rail line, has been submitted to West Dorset planners.

Customers using 'click and collect' currently have to park up and walk into the store to get their purchases.

Here we come a wassailing!

TRANSITION Town Dorchester members took part in traditional wassail ceremonies at the town's two community orchards.

As tradition dictates those joining in made a lot of noise to wake up the sleeping apple trees and to drive away any evil spirits which might be lurking among the branches.

This is the origin of the wassailing ceremony, which comes from the Anglo-Saxon "waes haeil", meaning "to be healthy". Wassailing was traditionally done around old Twelfth Night.

The wassailers began at the Railway Orchard, close to the Culliford Road rail bridge, with a rousing chorus of "Here we come a-wassailing!" standing around the biggest apple tree and accompanied by Johanna and Stephen Wolff on the piano accordion and guitar.

Malcolm Howell joined in with the spirit of things by fitting a trumpet mouthpiece to a watering can and making such a racket that no evil spirit would dare remain.

Ivy Wolff climbed the apple tree and pieces of apple cake were thrown at the tree and cider poured around its roots, all traditional elements of wassailing. Enough cider was left, however, for the wassailers to continue singing and socialising.

They then went on to the Poundbury Orchard, where the wassailing was repeated. This ceremony has now become a tradition for Transition Town - this is the third year they have done it.

The Railway Orchard is at the Baker's Arms end of Monmouth Road, between the road and the railway. The Poundbury Orchard is next to the Poundbury allotments, near to the Weymouth College Dorset Skills Centre.

Workdays are held most weekends, with shared lunches and frequent cups of tea, and everyone is welcome to come and join in.

New format for Lions fun run

DORCHESTER Lions are hoping that changes to this year's fun run will attract more runners.

Instead of the one and two mile events the two courses will be combined into a 2k run - as well as running the timed 10k event which was reintroduced last year and proved popular with more serious runners.

The two courses will start from Dorchester Middle School on Sunday, March 30th with registration from 9am to 10am.

As in previous years fancy dress is being encouraged with runners also asked to collect sponsorship to be shared between Lions charities and those nominated by runners.

Lions say the new, safe, flat 2k route is suitable for all ages and abilities.

Judging for the fancy dress will take place at 10am.

Certificates and a medal will be offered for all winners and second place in the six different age categories for male and female and all participants will receive a medal to remember the day.

Entry and Sponsor forms and maps of the route for both the 2K and 10K events are available to pick up from three sites in Dorchester - Goulds Household Store in lower South Street, the Tourist Information Centre in Antelope Walk and the Dorchester Sports Centre, Coburg Road.

Forms can also be downloaded from the Lions website www.lionsdorchester.org.uk by following the Events link on the homepage.

The information page from this link also gives details on how to enter the 10K event.

For additional information and 2K enquiries ring Mervyn on 01305 812404 and for 10K enquiries telephone Tony on 07788 424552.

This is the 32nd year of the fun run and over the years Dorchester Lions have been able to raise more than £200,000 for local good causes and charities.

In the last year the Dorchester & District Lions Club has donated almost £10,000 to more than 50 local good causes within the community.

At Christmas the club was able to hand over cheques of £700 each to the Fortuneswell Unit, Julia's House and Autism Wessex.

Andy Rose, for the Lions said: "Everyone and anyone can take part - the whole family can active fun together and raise money for their favourite charity at the same time."

"The Lions club never ceases to be surprised by the enthusiastic participation and generosity of the local community and local sponsors - that's why we love organising the event."

Purrfect Guests

IN JUNE 2013, Valerie and Dave left West Sussex with two cars, two removal vans, two pushbikes, a touring caravan and a cat called Tommy!

Upon arrival at Chedington Lane, Mosterton, Val went into the cattery to meet the residents whilst Dave oversaw the removal chaps move their worldly goods into the adjacent house. Their new life had begun!

Now, seven months later, the excitement with this new venture is as great as it was back in June.

Purrfect Guests is a FAB (Feline Advisory Bureau) registered cattery, licensed to accommodate 50 cats with 30 chalets available. The cats have their own inner heated chalet with an extended light and airy covered area to sit on their fleece covered shelf, looking out at the chickens and ducks. Toys are provided for their amusement but generally after a hearty breakfast or dinner, the 'guests' like to find a comfy place to have a doze. Cuddles and grooming are given as often as possible, and once the cats realise that this is a good place to be, they will often call out to Dave or Val for some more attention. Food is considered very important, with all tastes catered for, including tuna or steamed fish!

So, if your treasured cats are precious members of your family, give Purrfect Guests a call or even better, pay a visit to meet these two people who will care for them as if their own. Like their slogan says "We care when you can't be there".

■ SUE Baker, (left), national director of Time to Change; council chairman, Councillor John Wilson; member champion for mental health, Councillor Michael Bevan; Cabinet member for community services, Cllr Peter Finney, and Catherine Driscoll, director for adult and community services

County council sign up to mental health campaign

A CEREMONY in Dorchester has seen county council officials and councillors pledge to fight stigma and discrimination surrounding mental illness.

They have signed up to the national campaign, "Time to Change", led by mental health charities Mind and Rethink Mental Illness.

Council chairman, Councillor John Wilson, member champion for mental health, Councillor Michael Bevan and Catherine Driscoll, director for adult and community services, pledged their support for the aims of the campaign.

Dorset county council is one of the first local authorities in the country to have signed the pledge, and was also the first council to appoint a councillor champion for mental health.

The ceremony took place at the Dorford Centre, and was attended by representatives from local and national organisations.

Andy Bell, deputy chief executive of Centre for Mental Health addresses the audience and explained how mental illness can affect every aspect of people's lives.

He said that at any one time, one worker in six will be experiencing depression, anxiety or a problem relating to stress.

He praised the effort of Dorset County Council, and said the commitment shown would help encourage other local authorities to take up the challenge and reduce the stigma of mental illness.

Sue Baker, national director of "Time to Change", shared her personal experience and talked about the new national campaign to encourage people to have more open conversations around the subject of mental health.

She said local authorities have a key role to play in improving mental health in their communities, and that the progress made in Dorset would inspire others to follow.

Councillor Bevan said: "Most of us have trouble coping at times, and mental health problems are common enough that most of us will know somebody who has been affected in some way. We need to raise awareness and tackle any misconceptions or myths that exist.

"We want to encourage people in Dorset to speak out and talk about mental health problems so they can get the support and services they need without fear of judgment.

"Protecting vulnerable people is at the heart of what we do, and the pledge illustrates our dedication to end mental health discrimination. The council will continue to invest in a supportive environment that promotes mental wellbeing for both our staff and the public we serve."

Advice on mental health and services locally is available at - www.dorsetforyou.com/mental-health.

Learning grant to spread the word about the Jurassic Coast

PRIMARY schools in Dorset and East Devon are to share a £75,000 grant to spread the word about the Jurassic Coast.

The money, from the Primary Science Teaching Trust, will be used to help schools develop resources for the new national curriculum, due to be launched in September.

The new Big Jurassic Classroom (BJC) project focuses on recruiting teachers to act as ambassadors for the Jurassic Coast.

They will concentrate on three particular areas of work; teacher placements with scientists, teacher training days and creating resources for schools.

Teachers in Dorset and East Devon will work alongside scientists from national institutions such as the Natural History Museum, National Oceanography Centre and local organisations such as the Charmouth Heritage Coast Centre. They will research different themes like evolution and adaptation to create innovative classroom resources.

Dr Anjana Ford, Jurassic Coast learning and participation manager said: "We are delighted to have been awarded this grant from the Primary Science Teaching Trust. We can now actively recruit teachers to be inspired by working alongside scientists and create aspirational and challenging resources for children."

There will be training sessions for teachers to learn about how the Jurassic Coast can be used to teach the new earth science content in the primary and secondary curriculum.

Each school in the BJC programme will have a set of Jurassic Coast resources containing sets of rocks, fossil samples and small fossil digs to help pupils in the classroom. The first learning sets will be ready for use in September 2014.

Helen Collings from the Isle of Portland Aldridge Community Academy (IPACA) said: "I have recently been appointed Science and Technology Co-ordinator for the primary phase of IPACA and I am keen as part of my role to involve the school in as much learning around the local area as possible. This project is brilliant and just what I need to push things forward."

Hilary Cox, Cabinet member for environment at Dorset County Council said: "This fantastic grant will enable children to learn about science in an exciting and hands-on way whilst using the wonderful resource of the Jurassic Coast, right on our doorstep."

For further information about the programme and teacher training days please email a.k.ford@dorsetcc.gov.uk.

Bridport School of English

The Bridport school of English has been bringing students to the Bridport area for the past 7 years. The school teaches students each year from around the world. They choose to come to the school for the excellent teaching and to stay in the beautiful area of Bridport and surrounding district. The school is opening a new teaching centre in Dorchester this year.

Martyn Pape and daughter Charlie who run the school are looking for families for the students to stay with in Bridport and Dorchester. The students have English lessons during week days and enjoy their time with their host families evenings and at weekends. They become part of their English family during their stay, helping them to improve their English and really enjoy living with their family during their cultural exchange.

Host family Jean and Tony Glover who have hosted several students said "We decided to host foreign students to help finance our daughter's further education. But this rewarded us in return with some amazing experiences, learning about different cultures. The house continued very much as a family environment and we are more than happy to offer accommodation for further students"

Families of different ages and sizes take part and relish their time with their international student. Students from China, France, Spain, Italy, Germany and Switzerland are just some of the nationalities who have studied with the school. If you are interested in hosting an international student this year, please contact Martyn Pape on 01308 420005 or 07972485409.

Adoption team is one of the best in country

DORSET'S record for placing children with an adoptive family without delay is one of the best in the country.

The Department for Education (DfE) has published scorecards for local authorities and adoption agencies across England for the last three years.

Councils are ranked on the time between a child entering care and moving in with an adoptive family, and the time between a local authority receiving court permission to place a child and the local authority deciding on a match to an adoptive family.

Out of 152 local authorities, Dorset County Council ranked eighth for the time it takes from a child going into care to moving in with a family, and the time between receiving court permission to place a child and the council deciding on a match was nearly half the national average – just over three months, compared to six elsewhere.

Councillor Rebecca Knox, Cabinet member for children's safeguarding and families at Dorset County Council, said: "Having a loving home can change a child's life for the better, so making this happen is our priority.

"The most important thing is that we find a child the right family that meets their individual needs.

"Our adoption team have tried to make the process as straight forward and timely as possible, and work to make this process quicker continues.

"It's great that Dorset is doing so well, and thanks must be given to the families who come forward to provide loving homes for all the children and young people waiting for adoption."

Dorset County Council is keen to hear from anyone who would like to find out more about adoption.

Councillor Knox

added: "We could not find loving families for these children and young people without potential adopters coming forward, so if you think you might be able to offer a child a home, please get in touch."

Fifty fun things to do this year

FAMILIES can enjoy a whole year of outdoor adventures while exploring special places in West Dorset with the National Trust in 2014.

Each week the National Trust's West Dorset team will be promoting a different activity from the "50 things to do before you're 11-and-three-quarters" challenge. This is the National Trust's ultimate list of outdoor experiences every child should have. It aims to encourage children to get mucky, discover their wild side and create memories that will last a lifetime, as they tick off the 50 activities on the list.

With its unspoilt landscape, West Dorset is the perfect place to complete them. The trust's West Dorset team hopes that by highlighting one activity each week, and showing the best places to do it, families can have unforgettable experiences in the fresh air, while exploring some of the special places it cares for, including the extensive Golden Cap Estate, Ringstead Bay and Hive Beach at Burton Bradstock.

Some weeks there will be organised events for a particular activity, on others the team will simply give helpful hints about when or where to try activities independently. Many of the activities are straightforward and several can be ticked off in a day. More challenging ones will require more planning.

Organised events will include wild art at the Lyme Regis shop in February half-term, an Easter trail with "50 things" activities, and fossil hunting at the Lyme Regis Fossil Festival on the first May Bank Holiday.

Sarah Kennedy, Outdoor Experience Ranger for the National Trust's West Dorset team, said: "We're hoping this will encourage families to get out and explore our spectacular open spaces together, and have a great time doing so."

"There's so much to do here in the fresh air and we want to give children the chance to have all these must do experiences in the freedom of the countryside. It's something the whole family can enjoy, as parents can remember the fun they had doing the same things when they were young."

Sarah will be spreading the word in local schools and visitor centres, and advertising details of upcoming events in the local press and on the website at www.nationaltrust.org.uk/golden-cap.

Downloadable maps will also be available on the website, showing where to do "50 things" activities at Stonebarrow and Burton Bradstock.

Newcomers to the "50 things" challenge can pick up a scrapbook from the National Trust shop in Lyme Regis or from their nearest National Trust place, or register online at www.50things.org.uk.

Calls for agriculture money to be spent protecting wildlife

DORSET Wildlife Trust is calling on the Prime Minister to protect Dorset's wild plants and animals when he decides how to spend Common Agricultural Policy money.

The trust says the wrong decision could lead to more valuable natural assets disappearing from the county's landscape.

It wants the European money to be given to farmers who carry out environmentally friendly practices outlined in the voluntary Rural Development Programme, rather than in grants for income support.

West Dorset Area Manager for Dorset Wildlife Trust, Debbie Watkins said: "The Rural Development programme supports our precious wildlife and landscape, and the rural economy brings benefits to our health and well-being."

"The question on everybody's minds is how much money will be transferred from direct payments to the Rural Development Programme in support of environmental land management practices. The maximum that can be transferred is 15 per cent with some favouring much less, describing it as an increase towards environmental payments and suggesting that this would be a tax on English farmers.

"Quite simply this should not be described as an increase in funding as it will in real terms amount to a reduction in available funding. Nor should this be described as a tax on farmers as many farmers are in receipt of such funds through environmental stewardship schemes."

The average family in Dorset pays an estimated £400 a year towards the Common Agricultural Policy.

Dorset Wildlife Trust recommends that this money should be spent on a rural environment that supports a wildlife-rich farmed landscape where hedgerows, clean rivers and our much-loved wild plants and animals co-exist with sustainable food production.

In May this year, The State of Nature report revealed that 60 per cent of the species studied have declined over recent decades and more than one in ten of all species assessed are under threat of disappearing from our shores altogether.

In Dorset alone there has been a loss of 116 hectares of priority habitat since 2005.

Chefs battle it out for top title

■ CHEFS from Care South homes vying for the Chef of the Year title

CHEFS from Care South homes across Dorset have attended a workshop at Athelhampton House to give them tips for an afternoon tea competition.

The chefs will be taking part in the company's "Chef of the Year" competition – being asked to design an afternoon tea menu, which will be served as part of a series of 1950s-style tea-themed activities planned for residents in the spring.

The menus must show imagination and a flair for flavour, whilst keeping within budget.

Chefs attended a workshop at Athelhampton House, near Dorchester, to take part in sessions focused on incorporating stronger flavours when catering for elderly residents and reinforcing the role of activities in making mealtimes a sociable, pleasurable part of residents' days.

Up to six chefs will be short-listed for the "Chef of the Year" award and will be invited to attend a cook-off.

The award will be presented to the winning chef at Care South's Stars Awards ceremony in June, where individuals from across Care South's residential and home care staff will be recognised for their outstanding contribution to care.

Director of Care Services at Care

South, Richard Hawes, said: "We're delighted to have launched the Chef of the Year Competition for 2014."

"At Care South, we're incredibly proud of the commitment and creativity of our talented in-house chefs who work so hard to prepare meals that residents will enjoy. Our chefs go out of their way to incorporate residents' favourite dishes into their menus and to meet individual requests."

"The 'Chef of the Year' competition is a great way to recognise their dedication and skill and we're really looking forward to seeing what the chefs come up with."

Holistic Aromatherapy Massage

OLEO BODYCARE is an affordable range of simple, effective skin, hair and bodycare products.

They are handmade by Professional Aromatherapist, Olivia Chapman; a member of IFPA (International Federation of Professional Aromatherapists). The entire Oleo Bodycare range is created, manufactured & packaged at our workshop in Bridport.

We firmly believe that our formulations must benefit mind, body & wellbeing, using high quality essential oils, herbs, vegetable oils & extracts.

As nature provides an abundance of safe, therapeutic ingredients, we see no reason to use anything potentially harmful.

We never use parabens, synthetic fragrances or colours, minerals oils or sodium lauryl sulphate. Oleo products or their ingredients are not tested on animals.

Since the local launch in Spring 2009, the Oleo range has attracted an increasing number of local devotees. See for yourself by visiting our stall in Bridport market or look at our website shop - www.oleobodycare.co.uk

Olivia is also a fully qualified holistic aromatherapy massage therapist. Her therapy room is a comfortable and relaxing space in the centre of Bridport. After an initial consultation, essential oils will then be blended for your own emotional and physical requirements. Massage is perhaps one of the best ways to enjoy aromatherapy because you not only gain the therapeutic properties of the essential oils, but you also get the wonderful benefits of massage itself. Whether you have aches and pains or simply need some relaxation, call Olivia on 01308 427651 for more information or to make an appointment.

Donations needed for winter fuel fund

A DORSET charity is asking those who can afford to manage without their Winter Fuel Allowance to help others by donating it to the Surviving Winter Appeal.

Dorset Community Foundation say the money will be used to help elderly and otherwise vulnerable people who may be struggling to keep warm because of the rising cost of fuel.

The Surviving Winter Appeal is county-wide, led by the community foundation. Money it collects will be distributed through the Citizens' Advice Bureaus where those in need are asked to contact if they need help.

Appeal manager Tracy Melling says the lower the temperature the greater the risk to older people – even 15 degrees centigrade can increase the risk of a heart attack.

Donations should be made payable to the Dorset Community Foundation and sent to 24 St Peter's Road, Bournemouth, BH1 2LN, with a note to say that the money is for the Surviving Winter Appeal.

Pothole repairs underway

MORE than 30 teams of Dorset County Council staff have been at work repairing an estimated 1,800 potholes.

The cost of mending each hole varies between £50 and £75 which could push the bill to £135,000.

Highways staff is asking people to report holes, and other road defects, either online or by telephone.

They want to repair the holes before further damage is caused when the weather gets colder – freezing water in holes expands making the initial damage worse.

Reports of flooding and roads blocked by fallen trees or other obstacles can be made by calling 01305 221020. Potholes and other defects can be reported online at www.dorsetforyou.com.

Young bookworms cast your vote now!

by Trevor Bevins

YOUNG bookworms in Dorset have cast their vote on the shortlist for 2014 New Horizons Book Award.

This year's shortlist of six books was chosen by over 500 youngsters from across the county, who will now put their heads together to help pick the winner.

Gill Lewis, award winning author of "Sky Hawk" attended the recent launch event at Dorchester Library where she entertained 70 children from three schools with her journey to becoming an author and the inspiration for her novel "White Dolphin".

New Horizons, run by the Dorset Public and School Library Services, is a biannual award to encourage young people to explore some of the best fiction by exciting debut authors for nine to 13-year-olds.

Budding authors can also take part in a creative writing competition and experience what it is like to set out on the creative journey to become an author.

Councillor Peter Finney, Cabinet member for community services at Dorset County Council, said: "The New Horizons Book Award is a wonderful initiative – it's all about getting children to read for fun and develop a love for reading and writing."

"It was great to see so many young people voting for their favourite book, and we want to encourage all young budding scribes in Dorset to put pen to paper and tell us their own stories. I know we can look forward to reading some really exciting, imaginative stories."

Children in years five and six are asked to write a story in less than 1,500 words and children in years seven and eight can submit an outline of a novel, including the main events and characters in less than 250 words, and the opening pages of the novel which should be between 500 and 1,000 words.

The winner in each category will receive a book related prize. Details and online entry at www.dorsetforyou.com/bookaward

If the winners are attending a school which is registered for the New Horizons Book Award, the school will receive a prize of £100 towards an author visit of their choice.

Voting and competition entries will close on Saturday, April 26th and the winners of the New Horizons Book Award and Writing Competition will be announced at an awards ceremony at The Exchange, Sturminster Newton on Wednesday May 21st.

The shortlist can be found on www.dorsetforyou.com/bookaward, where children from Dorset can vote for their favourite book online.

Last chance to apply for conservation grant

JUST a couple of days remain to apply for grants of up to £3,000 to help meet the cost of community projects in West Dorset.

The district council is inviting applications for the money by the end of the month.

Projects should help improve your village, town or parish by improving the landscape, conserving historic features or helping with neighbourhood plans.

The Conservation and Community Planning Grant Scheme has already awarded around £7,500 to local projects, including £3,000 to help Puddletown Parish Council plant trees and improve a hedgerow around the village's recreation ground.

Bridget Legg, Puddletown Parish Councillor, said: "The money will help us tidy up an area which is overgrown with brambles. It will make the entrance to the recreation ground look appealing, which will be better for the village."

"If you have a project that needs money to improve your local area, I'd recommend applying straight away. The grant has really helped us."

Funding has also been given to help install a new war memorial in Beaminster Square, lay hedges in West Bay and replace trees around Willowbed Field in Chickerell.

Robert Gould, Leader of West Dorset District Council, said: "Several worthwhile projects have already benefitted from a grant, which is excellent news. This money will help local communities improve their area and protect the things that make it special."

"The last chance to apply is approaching, so I would urge groups who can make a difference to their area to apply immediately."

Grant applications for up to 50 per cent of a project's costs must be made by January 31st, 2014.

Applications can be made by town and parish councils, businesses and individuals (with parish or town council support) and community groups, including Local Area Partnerships. However, individuals can only apply for grants of up to £1,000.

Grants will not cover salaries and running costs or projects that mainly benefit an individual householder or landowner.

Advice and more information about the Conservation and Community Planning Grant Scheme is available by calling West Dorset District Council on 01305 251010.

The search begins for Dorset's Best Village

THE search has begun for Dorset's Best Village.

Dorset Community Action has organised the annual competition for the past 27 years and this week has been sending out entry packs.

DCA's Competition Organiser Rita Burden said: "Last year 55 villages entered one or more categories of Best Village, so our aim this year is to encourage even more communities to take part in this very rewarding competition."

"There are many who have never entered and all have the potential to win. Any organisation can enter its community – the parish council, village hall committee, school, youth club, scout or guide group or other active community group. Even Dorset's small hamlets can enter."

David Aldwinckle, Magna Housing's Director, which has sponsored the competition said: "We are very proud to be sponsoring the Dorset Best Village competition for the fifth year. It's very important to us that people are happy with the places they live in and we make sure that the areas we are responsible for are well-maintained.

"By taking part in the Dorset Best Village competition, people are given a real incentive to take pride in the places they live and to be recognised for the hard work they do."

The contest has a number of categories, apart from the the main "Best Village" competition. Others include: "The People's Project" category – the village judged to have entered the best project involving local active people; and "Environmental Champions" – the village judged to be doing the most "Green" initiatives.

There is also a new category, sponsored by the Dorset branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England, of "Best Village Shop" where communities are asked to nominate the village shop which serves them best.

"We are not looking for a 'chocolate box' picture village, but a village that works together and takes a pride in its surroundings and amenities thus promoting a good community spirit," Rita Burden added.

Dorchester-based Magna Housing, which has been the major sponsor since 2010 has renewed its support this year.

Additional sponsorship comes from Dorset County Council, the four District Councils, The Dorset Echo, Dorset Magazine, Blackmore Vale Magazine, along with local food producers Clipper Tea, Fudges Biscuits, Honeybuns, Craig's Dairies, Denhay Farms and Helen Furness Catering from Cerne Abbas.

The deadline for entries is 5pm on Monday, April 7th, except for the Environmental Champions Award where entrants have to register an interest in taking part by April 7th, with a final entry date of August 22nd.

Entry packs can be downloaded from www.dorsetcommunityaction.org.uk or by telephoning DCA on 01305-216407.

Police budget proposal to go to crime panel

THE Dorset Police and Crime Panel say they will need to be assured that all possible savings to the police budget have been made before accepting any increase in the force's share of council tax for 2014-15.

Police and Crime Commissioner Martyn Underhill is proposing a council tax increase of 1.95 per cent for the police to safeguard services and carry out a limited amount of recruiting.

Final discussions will take place when the crime commissioner presents his precept proposal to the Dorset Police and Crime Panel meeting on February 6th.

"In scrutinising it we will want to ensure that all avenues for savings have been explored and be assured that the police force remains economically efficient in the future," said Councillor John Adams, chair of the Dorset Police and Crime Panel

Hospital director named as top healthcare leader of the future

A DORSET County Hospital director has been honoured in Health Service Journal and named as one of 25 healthcare leaders of the future.

The hospital NHS Foundation Trust's Director of Operations Patricia Miller, who joined DCH in 2011, has been praised by her boss as making a huge difference to the operation in Dorchester since her arrival.

Dorset County Hospital Chief Executive Jean O'Callaghan said: "In the relatively short time she has been here Patricia has made a huge difference to the Trust and we are really proud of her achieving this national recognition."

Nick Golding, News Editor of the HSJ, said: "The NHS's difficulties are well documented. High calibre leaders will be essential if the health service aims to improve clinical standards, reduce health inequalities and provide innovative treatments and services that are more in tune with patients' needs in the decades ahead."

"Dedicated professionals from both clinical and managerial backgrounds will be the factor that ensures effort is directed in the right areas to ensure these challenges are met."

"We sought to produce a list of people who have shown they are willing to take the brave decisions that will safeguard the service's future, while making it sustainable in the longer term."

"We sought to celebrate those who are not only working to deliver excellent patient care in the present, but also showing a vision of excellent care for the future."

Patricia's citation praises her good relationship with clinicians, her clear direction and her focus on quality and innovation.

She has also forged strong links with partner organisations for the benefit of local patients. It says:

■ DORSET County Hospital's Director of Operations Patricia Miller, highlighted as a rising star in the NHS

"People believe that her skills, relationships, drive and passion for quality will see her become a successful chief executive in the future."

The judges said: "It sounds like Patricia is looking beyond her organisation and looking to the future in terms of the local health economy."

ELECTRIC PALACE LAUNCHES 'TRANSFORMER'

Charlie Jones from Goldfrapp and Jack Cheshire will perform at launch event

PROVIDING a platform for emerging artists to have greater local opportunities to 'transform' their music is the aim for the Electric Palace when they launch a new initiative called 'Transformer' next month.

Membership is free and members will be offered rehearsal space, music master classes, ticket discounts and the opportunity to audition for live music events. The Electric Palace has welcomed big names from The Kills, Grandmaster Flash, Johnny Marr, Courtney Pine as well as local musicians Billy Bragg and PJ Harvey who has herself used the Palace for rehearsal space.

The name 'Transformer' has taken inspiration from musician Lou Reed's most successful album. Lou Reed, whose recent death served a reminder to the massive influence he has had in the music industry, played in several bands during high school and it was several decades before he achieved mainstream commercial success.

My God is rock'n'roll. It's an obscure power that can change your life. The most important part of my religion is to play guitar.

'Transformer' will be launched on Monday, February 10th with a night of music by two amazing musicians, Charlie Jones and Jack Cheshire.

Charlie Jones was born in Bristol and started playing double bass and electric bass from a young age. The Grammy-winning songwriter and bassist to the stars including Goldfrapp recently introduced his smoky jazz instrumentals, stepping out of the shadows and into the limelight with his debut solo album 'Love Form'. The album features an array of well-renowned musicians featuring on the tracks – including Alison Goldfrapp, Portishead and Massive Attack collaborator Johnny Baggot on piano and harpist Ruth

CHARLIE JONES

The Goldfrapp man will perform at the Electric Palace's launch of 'Transformer'

Wall, amongst others. Playing with a quintet, this gig will be full of depth, diversity and stunning musicianship.

Supporting Charlie will be local born singer-songwriter & musician Jack Cheshire. Releasing his third album 'Long Mind Hotel' late last year to an enraptured audience at the Servant Jazz Quarters in London his music is a beguiling psychedelic alt-folk sound that feels set to reach a wider audience.

Jack was born in Bath, Somerset, and grew up surrounded by a plethora of eclectic records; Beach Boys, Augustus Pablo, Fairport Convention, Tom Waits, Billie Holiday, Laurie Anderson, Echo & the Bunnymen.... A reserved songwriter but keen bass player from an early age, Jack studied and played music full-time in Liverpool for a number of formative years, developing an unusual finger-picking style on guitar as a result of bass being his first instrument.

JACK CHESHIRE

The Somerset-born guitarist will bring his unusual playing style to Bridport

Eventually working his way to London, Jack self-released his debut 'Allow It To Come On' a lo-fi, intimate venture, recorded in the confines of a tiny attic room. It was widely lauded for its brooding, meandering melodies and minimalist production.

The launch of 'Transformer' with Charlie Jones and Jack Cheshire takes place at the Electric Palace on Monday, February 10th. Doors open 7.30pm, with music from 8.30pm. Tickets cost £10 (plus booking fee) in advance, or £12 on the door. A £5 student discount is available. To book tickets visit www.seetickets.com.

Royal Shakespeare Company actor performs Shakes-Kids!

WITH the help of one of The Bard's own clowns, we open a door to magic, mime, music, participation and fun, all combining to make a memorable occasion for children and their family.

Held at the Marine Theatre on Saturday, February 8th at 11.30am, Royal Shakespeare Company actor Chris Harris gives a fun-filled yet highly informative introduction into the world of Shakespeare and his works. Aimed at children aged 6-11, 'Shakes-Kids!' comes highly recommended as an effective way to educate children through 'a wonderfully sustained piece of clowning and storytelling' (Ned Chaillet, The Times).

Chris Harris has an impressively broad acting career, previously appearing with the RSC, Bristol Old Vic and his highly acclaimed nine year collaboration with the Theatre Royal (Bristol) and their successful pantomime productions in which he starred as the dame. His outstanding delivery of one man shows continues to wow audiences and critics on an international scale.

THE CROWN

- CHURCH STREET -

ITS BEEN a year since we took over the lovely Crown Inn in the pretty village of Puncknowle, just south of Dorchester. During that time lots has been happening – Palmers brewery have had the 16th century pub re-thatched and the outside painted, to coincide with the upsurge in visitors – both local and from further afield. A village shop has been opened in a disused store room to serve Puncknowle and the surrounding areas and it is doing a roaring trade in all items – from logs to eggs, home-made pies to vegetables and cakes to sweets (which go down well with the children in the village! ) The reputation has been laid for good, home-cooked food with people coming from far and wide to enjoy the welcoming atmosphere, good real ales and drinks and to sample the local specials – all produced in house. Many return visits are made to this child and dog friendly pub – review sites and local visitors books have said some great things about us - so word is spreading! To celebrate our first year we are offering a return of our great 2 for 1 deal for February – so cut out the voucher and pop along to see us for a meal and a drink.

Blanche, Alex, Misty the Dog and all the team look forward to welcoming you all - new or return visitors – to our lovely home.

Story Soup

Australian stand-up to headline Comedy Cafe

TO celebrate National Storytelling Week (February 1st-8th) local professional storyteller Martin Maudsley teams up with Bridport Arts Centre to present a lively selection of tall tales for tiny people on Tuesday, February 4th. Listen to furry fables, tales with tails and magical myths, all mixed together with plenty of singing, actions, and joining-in.

'Story Soup' is a special storytelling event for pre-school children during National Storytelling Week. Admission is £2 per child; adults and under 1s free.

For more details on Martin Maudsley visit his website at www.martinmaudsley.co.uk

AWARD winning Australian comic Yianni Agisilaou will headline the first Comedy Café night of the year next week.

A regular on the world comedy circuit Yianni was the talk of last year's Edinburgh Fringe with his 'Think Big' show which saw him close the festival at the city's biggest venue supported by Ed Byrne.

The comedy café nights are returning this year bigger and better than ever after teaming up with Mirth Control, the UK's leading booker of independent comedy clubs.

The partnership means the café will be able to attract even more big names to add to the growing list of acts who have gone on to become TV regulars.

Completing the line up at next Friday's gig will be the relentlessly middle class Glaswegian Neil McFarlane, new acts Archie Mad-docks and Tim O'Connor as well as regular host, and Bridport based comedian, Tom Glover.

As well as introducing the acts, as ever Tom will be sharing his latest material with the home crowd.

The BAC Comedy Cafe will be at 8pm on Friday, February 7th. Tickets are £7 adults/£5 concessions and available from the arts centre box office on 01308 424204.

A TRIP on the London Underground can often be a challenge in itself, but how about spending a whole weekend on the Tube, travelling on every line and passing through every station on the network?

That's what View From financial controller Anita Routley will be doing next month, raising funds for our Water Survival Box campaign.

Sponsor a station visit by calling Anita on 01297 446149 or donate online at <http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/anitaroutley>

The Water Survival Box itself is an amazing bit of kit - an invaluable resource for victims of natural and manmade disasters around the world.

The box contains a water purification unit that doesn't need chlorine tablets but operates with a membrane that eliminates harmful particles from dirty water.

It also features essential survival items for cooking, eating, drinking, health and hygiene. Basic shelter, simple tools and key household items are also included.

The boxes are sent by air to ensure they arrive within days of a request for aid, with their standardised contents allowing for speedy transit through customs.

◆ IN A bid to raise £10,000 over two years for Water Survival Box, we are encouraging our readers and local organisations in East Devon, South Somerset and West Dorset - where we distribute in excess of 40,000 papers every week - to organise a fundraising event for the charity.

If you would like to help, telephone James Coles on 01297 446155 and we will promote your event in this newspaper. To make a donation, please make a cheque payable to 'Water Survival Box - View account' and send it to: James Coles, Water Survival Box campaign, View From Newspapers, Unit 3, St Michael's Business Centre, LYME REGIS, Dorset DT7 3DB.

Our fund reaches £3,000

LAUNCHED in November 2013 with the aim of raising £10,000 over the next two years, View From Newspapers' appeal for Water Survival Box has already reached £3,000.

Managing Director and View From editor Philip Evans is pictured above handing a cheque to Ken Biggs, representing the Rotary Club of Chelwood Bridge in North Somerset, which runs the charity.

Also pictured is John McCallum, representing the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis, who assisted View From in setting up their appeal. The cheque was presented on Monday at a soup and ploughman's lunch organised by the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis, for the Water Survival Box charity.

Said Mr Evans: "We are delighted to have raised £3,000 in just under three months and we are confident that we will reach our £10,000 way ahead of schedule."

"Our readers and local organisations have already shown great generosity and the View From staff are getting up to all sorts of crazy things to boost the fund."

Mayor gives her support

FOR over 13 years I worked for an overseas aid charity in Reading. We frequently shipped Rotary Shelter Boxes as well as other much needed aid to many countries.

I saw for myself when travelling overseas to deliver aid, the desperate situations people find themselves in through war and poverty. Many countries struggle to survive with floods, drought, and earthquakes. It is all too often the children, the vulnerable and elderly who suffer.

I am delighted that View From Newspapers have taken up the challenge to raise much needed funds to purchase Rotary Water Survival Boxes.

I am confident these boxes will make the difference between life and death, health and disease.

I know what a difference even a pound donation can make so I am pleased to support this appeal by giving a donation of £100 from the Mayor's fund.

Wine & Dine your Valentine

Enjoy a romantic evening at Symondsburry Kitchen

THE most recent transformation on Symondsburry Estate is the new café – Symondsburry Kitchen.

The Symondsburry Kitchen offers a selection of seasonal locally sourced and home cooked food, and the ethos is to offer delicious food in the most stunning and relaxing surroundings.

and relaxing surroundings.

Seating up to 30 people inside, and the same amount outside in the warmer months, it's the ideal spot for lunch. There is also a relaxing corner, where you can "chill out" on the sofas and soak up the warm and cosy ambience whilst enjoying afternoon tea with cake.

Currently open from Thursday through to Sunday for Breakfast, Lunch and afternoon teas, delicious home-made cakes, coffee, hot chocolate, tea, cold drinks, and daily special lunches. All are welcome including dogs!

Friday, February 14th will see the Kitchen opening in the evening for the first time – offering a Valentine's Meal. The guest chef is Nick Holt of Dorset Fine Dining – two and three courses are available, and bookings are essential.

Late last year, Symondsburry Estate transformed a somewhat disheveled Milking Shed into Symondsburry Kitchen. Its now hard to believe that this beautiful café used to house around 30 cows and two milkmaids! Sym pathetic renovations have transformed this building whilst still managing to retain many of the original features and character.

We have also created an 8km XC mountain bike and walking trail, which starts and finishes at Manor Yard, making Symondsburry Kitchen the perfect place to gather after a winter walk or bike ride through the stunning countryside.

Tea parties for children can be arranged, and the venue is available for private hire both at lunchtimes and evenings.

There is a selection of different venues throughout the Estate that are available for private hire, and the Estate welcome any local community groups or clubs that are looking for a meeting place. All catering can be arranged for you, whatever the occasion.

Everyone at the Symondsburry Kitchen pride themselves on being flexible, so if you have a specific request please contact them and they will be happy to discuss your requirements and create a tailor made package to suit your needs.

They look forward to welcoming you to Symondsburry Kitchen!

Fandango to Tango!

Classical guitar concert with John Mills and Cobie Smit

ACCLAIMED duo John Mills and Cobie Smit will play a Fandango to Tango! concert of classical guitar music at Dorchester Arts Centre on Sunday, February 9th at 3pm.

The Arts Centre is delighted to welcome John Mills back after his sell-out performance last year. This time the programme will be a mix of pulsating rhythms and haunting melodies with solos and duets from the works of Boccherini, Piazzolla, Maximo Pujal and Granados.

John Mills studied with John Williams, Julian Bream and Andres Segovia and was a Professor at the Royal Academy of Music for twenty years. Renowned as one of the finest classical guitarists in the world, Andres Segovia has paid tribute to John Mills for his exceptional ability to master 'purity of technique and musical sensitivity'.

His wife Cobie Smit is one of the most celebrated guitarists from The Netherlands. This promises to be a Sunday afternoon treat from two of the finest classical guitarists in the world and is kindly supported by Batten Solicitors Charitable Trust.

Tickets £12, £10 members and concessions, and are available from Dorchester Arts 01305 266926 or the Tourist Information Office 01305 267992 or online at: www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

BE TRANSPORTED AROUND THE WORLD BY SCULPTURE MUSIC

BE TRANSPORTED around the world by Sculpture Music, a fantastical duo who will fill the Arts Centre with the magical sounds of Jazz and World Fusion on Saturday, February 8th, at 8pm.

You can expect original earthy melodies, atmospheric beats and soaring vocals from Matt Calder and John Shaw. The duo express a high level of musicianship and will bring some surprising instruments. Between them they play the Hang Drum, Halo, Didjeridu, Dodhran, Guitars, Electronica, Double Bass and Piano.

Formed in 2012, the band was inspired by Matt's love of the Hang Drum, a new instrument invented in 2002 in Switzerland. Matt also plays the 'Halo', an instrument similar to the Hang but with a deeper, richer resonance.

The trance-like sounds of the Hang and Halo draw comparisons to African music and modern Jazz, with ambient and dance textures coming from the electronica elements. The band were compared to the likes of Massive Attack, Steve Reich and Por-thead, when their debut album Minor Songs In Major Keys was released in February 2013.

The album received extensive radio play on BBC radio with BBC Introducing it as 'intricate, harmonic rich, compelling music...'

The duo are currently back in the studio recording a new EP and videos due for release early this year - so you can expect to be amongst the first to hear some new tracks.

Tickets are priced £8 adult/ £7 members and £5 Concessions. Buy online from www.bridport-arts.com or call the Box Office on 01308 424204.

Unlimited Vauxhall spec appeal at Lanehouse Vauxhall

Local retailer, Lanehouse Vauxhall with sites in Bridport and Weymouth, is inviting motorists in Dorset to explore Vauxhall's stylish line up of Limited Edition models that offer lavish spec as standard.

Customers can take advantage of four Limited Edition models that combine stunning good looks with exceptionally generous standard spec: the Astra GTC Limited Edition, Astra 5-door hatchback Limited Edition, New Insignia Limited Edition and the Corsa Limited Edition.

Dominic Avery, Company Director at Lanehouse Vauxhall, comments: "These vehicles offer drivers the chance to own a brand new, stylish model that is bolstered with superior levels of equipment. We'd like to invite those in the community looking for a new car to visit our showroom to learn more about these great-value vehicles."

Spec Appeal

Corsa Limited Edition

Starting from £14,650, the funky Corsa Limited Edition is both sporty and stylish. It comes with striking 17" Black twin spoke alloy wheels, a Carbon Flash roof and door mirrors, as well as body coloured VXR styling pack. Equipment also includes air conditioning, darkened rear glass and sports pedals.

Astra GTC Limited Edition

Priced from £19,995 and with over £2,000-worth of additional spec, the sleek Astra GTC Limited Edition is fun-to-drive and features a sporty exterior. This well-equipped GTC comes with 20-inch bi-colour alloy wheels, a VXR styling kit, front fog lights, dark tinted rear glass and Bluetooth mobile phone system, all as standard.

Astra Limited Edition

The stylish Astra 5-door hatchback

Limited Edition comes with prices starting from £18,460 and features a generous level of standard specification, including 19-inch alloy wheels, leather sports steering wheel, LED daytime running lights, as well as an imposing sports-style front bumper, side sills and rear lower skirt. Owners can enjoy all the latest connectivity too, including a mobile phone system with Bluetooth and a USB port for smartphones and MP3 players.

New Insignia Limited Edition

Launched at the end of 2013, Vauxhall's New Insignia offers premium design, cutting edge technology and powerful engines with sector-leading CO2 emissions. Available in hatchback and Sports Tourer body styles, and priced from £21,029, the Insignia Limited Edition features generous standard specification, including 18-inch bi-colour alloy wheels, a VXR Styling Pack, electrically-heated sports front seats, front and rear parking sensors, and front fog lights.

Flex Appeal

To make purchasing a new Vauxhall model, including a Limited Edition, even easier, customers could benefit from Vauxhall's innovative Flexible Finance scheme, which enables customers to take advantage of zero per cent APR, payment terms that can vary between 24 and 60 months, and a deposit from as little as zero, allowing customers to drive away with a new model at a monthly payment to suit their personal budget.

This means that customers could purchase a Corsa Limited Edition 1.2i VVT 3-door for just £189 a month over 60 months, with a customer deposit of £2,560. This includes a £750 Vauxhall Deposit Contribution.

What's more, the warranty on the high-spec line-up is anything but limited. Vauxhall offers all customers peace of mind long after their purchase, thanks to its industry-leading Lifetime Warranty. Available to the first owner of all new Vauxhall cars, the warranty is valid for the lifetime of the vehicle up to a maximum of 100,000 miles.

All Limited Edition models are available to order now from Lanehouse Vauxhall. For more information and to find your nearest site please go online to www.lanehousegroup.co.uk.

Car Safety Week (27th January to 1st February) - is your child's car seat as safe as you think?

Simple checks will ensure your child's car seat is fitted correctly, keeping your child protected.

You might have bought the safest car and safest child car seat, but if the seat isn't right for your child, or is fitted incorrectly, your child won't be as safe as they should be. Not all child car seats fit in all cars, and the child car seat you choose needs to be right for your child. Make these checks to ensure it's fitted correctly:

1. Is the child car seat sitting squarely on the seat of the car?
2. If the seat is rearward facing, is the handlebar in the correct position?
3. Is the seatbelt secure and untwisted?
4. Is the seatbelt following the correct red or blue route guides?
5. Is the seatbelt buckle in the right place?
6. For Isofix seats, do the visual indicators show it is fitted correctly?
7. Is your Isofix drop down foot securely on the floor, and/or is the top tether firmly attached?
8. Have you removed any thick clothes?
9. Are the shoulder pads level with your child's shoulders and are they not too tight or loose?
10. Is the seatbelt across their shoulder and hips?

For further help and advice, visit Babygear Bridport during car seat safety week (27th January to 1st February). Call 01308 422 552 for details.

Dorchester Town FC news

Simkin pleased with Magpies response despite early bath

DORCHESTER TOWN 0 HAYES & YEADING 0
Skill South (abandoned 35 minutes)
AFTER what Magpies boss Phil Simkin described as the worst day of the season with the home defeat by Dover three days earlier, he was more than pleased with his side's response despite Tuesday night's being abandoned after 35 minutes.

Referee Adrian Quelch brought proceedings to a halt ten minutes before the break after first consulting both team captains and then two minutes later Simkin and his counterpart Phil Babb.

Although the clash with Hayes & Yeading ended up being abandoned, Simkin still felt he could take some positives from the curtailed encounter.

The Dorchester chief looking for a reaction said: "In a strange way that has galvanised us; it hasn't been a bad thing. A lot of good things came out of that for us and sometimes, out of those situations, good things happen.

"Playing football in this country is all about adapting to the pitch, the weather and the opposition."

With heavy drizzle driving across the pitch, the referee tested the conditions 20 minutes before kick-off and passed it fit to start.

Unfortunately, despite the hard work of the Dorchester groundstaff who forked the pitch right up to kick-off, the rain became heavy just as he blew to start the match.

Ryan Case and Jack Twyford replaced Calvin Brooks and Dan Munday at right back up front respectively for Dorchester.

Both sides found it hard to control the ball from the start as it zipped off the sticky surface and it wasn't until the 7th minute that there was an effort on goal; Hayes' captain Dean Inman digging out a 20-yard shot that keeper Alan Harris-Walker took above his head at the second attempt.

Then striker Inih Effiong, looking suspiciously offside when put through on 15 minutes, shot high and wide.

By now the conditions were becoming hazardous as players were slipping and sliding in the mud and finding control difficult, and even the reliable Nick Crittenden miskicked sending his shot well wide when the ball flipped up off a defender on the edge of the box.

The burly Effiong then battled his way past Frazer Colmer but fired his angled shot wide of the far post.

abandonment correct

Dorchester's first shot on target came on 28 minutes from Charlie Losasso's 30-yard free-kick but the shot was comfortably dealt with by keeper Jamie Young.

It was no surprise however when soon after the referee abandoned the game with the rain showing no sign of letting up.

Simkin fully agreed with the referee's decision adding: "I think he was possibly right to start the game but I think both sides knew we weren't going to finish it.

"When he spoke to Phil Babb and myself he said he was already thinking of abandoning it at half-time anyway if it didn't improve - I thought he did well and was right to stop it when he did."

On the pitch he was particularly pleased with AFC Bournemouth loanee Losasso who was substituted on Saturday playing wide but was given the role this time of playing just behind Warren Byerley.

"I thought they battled hard and Charlie did well. His job was to play in behind Warren and also pick up their number four in midfield and I thought he did that very well.

"It's not a pitch for someone to run with the ball and he's someone who runs with the ball. He struggled on Saturday because the pitch was poor and he couldn't carry it. I felt a little bit sorry for him but he did well tonight."

Stumpy on finals before spreading the word

PORTLAND cricketer and Dorset coach Grant Neven is fast approaching another trip to Uganda to help help raise awareness to AIDS and to coach local people to play cricket.

"Stumpy" as he is known in local cricket circles, coaches Portland Red Triangle and will travel to Uganda as part of Cricket Without Boundaries, a UK cricket development and AIDS awareness charity which is run almost entirely by the dedication and enthusiasm of its volunteers.

He travelled to Coventry last weekend for a final briefing and to meet his team as he prepares to fly out to Uganda on February 22nd as Project Leader and said: "Having taken part in a previous trip to Uganda in the Spring of 2103, I had no hesitation when volunteering to return this year."

Weymouth basketball

Cowboys bite the dust

IN their second set of games, Weymouth College Tropics Under16s hoped to use their two months training to effect as they hoped for a double win and getting back into contention for the title.

WEYMOUTH COLLEGE TROPICS 20

SALISBURY 31

IN their first game, the young Tropics squared off against Salisbury.

From the opening tip it looked as though neither team were going to get the upper hand as they went back and forth, forcing Weymouth to call a time out and regroup.

With a few well timed substitutions and a change in tact, Weymouth fired back as they levelled the score.

As the game entered the second-half Weymouth gained a slim lead led by guards Max Gilmartin and Jerry Thompson; both pushing the ball and finding open team mates.

With only a minute remaining, Tropics found themselves five points down and with a chance to win, but unfortunately did not find the mark resulting in a 20-31 loss.

WEYMOUTH COLLEGE TROPICS 33

DORSET STORM B 39

IN their second game, they faced Dorset Storm B.

With a lack of experience, Weymouth were unable to match their rivals as they failed to connect on multiple layup opportunities.

As the game continued, the Tropics were able to rotate their entire team allowing all to have a good amount of game time and finding solid play from Joe Southcott and Matt Williams-Davey.

Storm continued their pressure as Weymouth were unable to close out to run out 39 - 33 winners.

Coach Alex Fuhrmann said: "I was really at a loss this evening. The lads have had two months of great training, learning to work as a unit and playing as a team.

"I honestly can't believe we came out with such a lack of fire; missing open layups and seemingly forgetting our team plan.

"They are a great bunch of lads. There is a long way to go yet and if we decide that we want to win, then the league title is still ours to take."

Roster: Taine Mackay, Max Gilmartin, Jerry Thompson, Kim De Leon, Joe Stickley, Ewan Goodwin, Tim Hendy, Joe Southcott, Matt Williams-Davey.

Cowboys trampled by Chargers second half replay

WEYMOUTH COWBOYS 62 CREDITON CHARGERS 74
WEYMOUTH Cowboys entered this Exeter and District Division Two game looking to stop their recent poor run of form against a strong Crediton side.

The visitors took an early lead despite good defence which encouraged the Cowboys to play harder on offence.

A basket from Sam Brown and back-to-back baskets from Chris Canham opened the scoring and gave Crediton a warning that they were in for a tough game.

Chargers briefly took the lead but three-pointers from Alex Fuhrmann and Jake Kinder made the match more even until scores from Jim De Bertrand and Vitoldas Balciunas solidified a Weymouth lead at the end of the first half; 30-28.

Unfortunately, the second-half wasn't as successful as Crediton's big presence around the basket made it tough for Weymouth to guard.

Despite some good defence, Crediton went on a 12-point scoring run without reply which turned the game.

Baskets from Josh Turner and MVP Ben Stokely proved that the Cowboys still had something left in the tank, but unfortunately despite a noble effort from Fuhrmann late in the fourth quarter, Crediton stole the win 74 - 62.

Player/Coach Fuhrmann said: "It was a shame that such a good defence performance wasn't rewarded with a win.

"There are a lot of positives to take from this game especially knowing that our opponents could compete at Division One level."
Roster/Scorers: De Bertrand 13, Canham 11, Balciunas 11, Fuhrmann 11, Stokely 6, Jake Kinder 3, Turner 3, Brown 2, Rob Legg 2, Max Gilmartin.

Preston D battle to quarter-finals

PRESTON D overcame Weymouth & District Table Tennis league Division 1 leaders Land Registry to take their place in the quarter-finals of the league's Handicap Cup.

The Division 3 side now face the youthful Budmouth D next week for a place in the last four.

The format of the Handicap Cup is such that all teams in the league can be matched no matter which division they are in. In extreme cases the better player can start with -4 points and the lesser player with +14 points.

The game is then played to 21 points, best of three legs, the first team to win five games taking the match.

Preston D were involved in one of the closest games in the first round when it went to the wire, the Weymouth side edging out Division 2 opponents Shipton Gorge B, taking the deciding ninth game 2-1.

Three of the four Budmouth teams have progressed to the last eight and have avoided each other in the draw.

In the second round cup holders Budmouth A went through 5-0 against Pilgrims, but the match was closer than the score suggests.

Four of the games went to the best of three with Pilgrims winning the first leg in all of them, but Budmouth A came back to triumph in the deciding games.

The Tom Cherry v Paul Beeston game was one of the most entertaining seen this year.

Both players were playing great attacking shots but even better defence away from the table in the big Budmouth school gym, and the 21-19 score lines in the final two games were as close as it suggests and it really could have gone either way.

In the end, Cherry's return of Beeston's attacking smashes from distance was the winning difference.

Another notable game was the match between Lily Cherry and Stuart Walden.

Walden took the first 21-13 and looked to be home after quickly winning eight points to level at 12-12 and then go ahead in the second.

But Cherry kept calm despite match points against her to produce some excellent forehand shots and crucial serves, to win the game 22-20, before coming out on top in the third in another close one 21-17.

Sam Millar played solidly to record the only 2-0 result of the night against Paul Beeston and then win 2-1 against Richard Wiltshire.

There were contrasting styles in the final game between Tom Cherry and Wiltshire both playing off scratch, with the latter's consistency in pushing back Cherry's attacking options paid off 21-18.

The second game saw Wiltshire come from behind to win ten successive points and gain match point, but Cherry eventually came back to win 22-20.

The third game was also close but Cherry managed to win the big points at the end to win 21-18.

All Saints who were behind all night until the last two games beat Pilgrims B 5-4.

In a match which was a tribute to the handicapper saw giant killers Preston D overcome Land Registry.

Game one saw Lee Stainer beat Preston's Mal Smith 23-21 in both games, but Kevin Goater levelled the match by beating Steve Jackson before Registry's Neil Hardisty overcame Stan Smith 2-1 in a really close game.

The next three games went to Preston D, but with Stainer overcoming Steve Smith and Jackson beating Mal Smith the scores are even 4-4.

The deciding game sees Goater take the first leg 21-17 before Hardisty levels 21-15.

At 20 all in the final led Goater wins off his service but with Hardisty missing his serve, Preston D snatch victory.

2nd Round Results: Budmouth A 5 Pilgrims 0; Colliton C 5 Wyke C 0; Colliton X 2 Shipton Gorge A 5; Land Registry 4 Preston D 5; Pilgrims 4 All Saints 5; Shipton Gorge C w/o Budmouth B; Springfield B v Preston C tbp; Wyke D 3 Budmouth D 5

■ GIANTKILLERS: Preston D who defeated League 1 leaders Land Registry (l-r): Tony Houghton, Mal Smith, Kevin Goater, Stan Smith

Late try dashes Blues in thriller

Bridport 11 Warminster 16

AN exciting match for spectators became a frustrating one for the Blues, as their defeat followed a convincing win against Westbury last week writes Amy Van Zyl.

From kick-off Bridport started the game at a frenetic pace with good drives and quick distribution.

But the Blues soon realised that it was more than just the wind against them with hard tackles and a string of attacks from impressive Warminster loose forwards.

After 15 minutes, Warminster's first credible attack saw them dominate possession deep into Bridport's 22, but the Blues' responded well to the pressure with strong scrummaging, led by the front row who administered some hard hits.

A quickly taken advantage temporarily removed some pressure from Bridport, but Warminster responded with relentless solid drives resulting in a try which was converted on the half-hour for a 7-0 lead.

Bridport bit back with consistently strong scrummaging, effective interplay and a good line-out.

However, in the closing minutes of the first-half, a penalty against the Blues saw Warminster take it successfully to posts giving the visitors a ten point lead.

Half-time allowed the Blues to re-gain their initial momentum and the home team started the second half confidently.

A well-taken ball in the line out by Andrew Livingston saw the Blues capitalise on their possession with an attack into the opposition half.

A penalty to the Blues saw the home team get their first score on the board. Increased pressure on Warminster accompanied by poor discipline, allowed Bridport to take another penalty to posts.

The Blues were now only four points down and in desperate need of a try.

A break from Tom Wilkins and impressive interplay from the forwards, saw Bridport advance right onto the Warminster line where Mark Gough seized the opportunity to score and give Bridport the lead.

Despite initial uncertainty a Blue win seemed possible.

However in the closing minutes of the second-half Warminster began to regain momentum, and with relentless attacks and good drives from their loose forwards, they crossed the Bridport line with a final try, and although unconverted, victory.

YOUTH TEAMS ROUND-UP

Bridport U12 0 Wimborne 35

THE under 12s suffered on a grim day with heavy rain and wind against a strong Wimborne side who attacked hard from the start, testing Bridport's defence, and ran in three first-half tries.

Bridport who put their heart and soul into the game, found their feet more after the break but found the visitor's defence in commanding form.

They responded with counter attacks and despite some great Bridport defence scored four more tries.

Bridport U11 10 Wimborne 25

BRIDPORT coach Guy Furner was expecting to referee a game of forward domination in extreme conditions, but was delighted to see a quick, dynamic game of passing rugby played by 10-year-old boys, off loading supporting runs and backs running quick ball.

He said: "There wasn't a break in the game as both teams tried to cross the game line.

"It was truly battlefield conditions as the breakdown was contested against continual pressure from Wimborne.

"It was another learning curve for our team, both from the conditions and the quality of the opposition.

The Man of the Match went to Ryan Phillips our only try scorer who is consistently is eligible for this nomination, who put on a brilliant, dynamic performance."

Under 9s

THERE was a heroic effort from the under 9s team on Sunday as they braved awful weather conditions on a pitch that could most definitely be described as a mud bath!

They faced an extremely strong Wimborne side, which moved the ball around well enabling them to score a number of tries.

However, as the game went on, Bridport began to improve and some great forward play from Fred Underhay and Jude Wright contributed to Bridport's only try scored by Max Jones, following a great dodge and run to the line.

Bridport will now look to work on their tackling to build up a stronger defence.

Under 8s

DESPITE wet and tricky conditions against a strong Wimborne side, the home team played well and showed improvement in defence.

The tries came from Barney Johnson, Charlie Brake, James Glanvill and Dominic Burdett.

Under 7s

DIFFICULT conditions under foot didn't stop either Bridport or Wimborne from producing some excellent runs.

Leading try scorer Kieran Coombs led the way with William Banham, Maisy Herbert and Ben Glanvill adding to the Blues' total.

Wessex Area Point-to-Point: Jack Barber breaks his duck

JACK Barber, 22, notched his first training win at the Royal Artillery at Larkhill on Sunday when partnering 11/4 favourite Subtle Sovereign to a two length success in the third Maiden on the card.

The grey is owned by Jack, Len Vickery and David Bennett, whose 10-year-old granddaughter, Jessica, designed the winner's silks based on her favourite purple and pink colours.

A former pony race rider with over 50 career wins in point-to-points and under Rules, Jack has 14 horses at his parents' Jeremy and Sarah's Henley home near Crewkerne.

Paul Barber and David Martin's five-year-old debutant Ask The Weatherman overcame a last fence stumble to take the first Maiden by 2½ lengths for Richard Barber who lives just down the road at Seaborough Manor.

"It's been a learning curve for him, but he's gutsy, jumps well and will come on a ton for the race," reported his clearly impressed jockey, Will Biddick.

Excellent racing expected at Milborne St Andrew on Saturday

MORE excellent point-to-point racing is expected at The South Dorset Hunt at Milborne St Andrew on Saturday.

The Sally Duckett-trained That's Rhythm, unbeaten in five completed outings last season including Stratford's AGA Ladies Series Final Hunter Chase, and Gwanako, who provided 16-year-old Megan Nicholls with a first win between the flags at Larkhill, are the two suggestions for Sunday's South Dorset Ladies Open at Milborne St Andrew.

Extra Bold and Terra Bleu – first and second at Peper Harow in May – and Whitfield winner Major Decision are three other contenders.

The fascinating runners are the Goulds' former high class Rules performer Silverburn, a full-brother to Cheltenham Gold Cup winner Denman and winner of a Grade 1 Sandown Novice Chase, and the Ruckers' State Benefit, a £42,000 May Doncaster purchase after winning a hurdle race and two steeplechases for the Nicky Henderson stable.

That's Rhythm is fancied to forge clear of his rivals up the final climb.

Larkhill Racing Club winner Poquelin and last year's winner Certain Flight are among the 14 entries for the Bonham's Men's Open, along with course specialist Crank Hill.

Johnny's Way, prolific South East winner Adept Approach, long distance specialist Fortification and the Peter Mason-trained Shy John are four more for the shortlist, along with Frances Bishop's Theatre Evening, the winner of a 2m6f Newton Abbot hurdle for trainer Fergal O'Brien in May.

Consistent former Coronation Gold Cup winner Coombe Hill will be suited by testing conditions and can chase up Poquelin and Certain Flight.

Crank Hill is an automatic selection to complete a three-timer in the Hunt race if connections take up the option. The 2010 winner Gunner Be Quick – another who would relish a test of stamina – may be the strongest challenger.

Jack Barber's Ask The Weatherman won well at Larkhill on Saturday and can follow up in the Restricted. Fine Resolve stayed on strongly to win at Chaddesley Corbett in December and may be the danger.

The course at Milborne St Andrew is just off the A354 midway between Blandford and Dorchester.

First race: 12 noon. Admission is to either of two car parks at £20 or £25 per car with a reduction for single occupants; £5 for pedestrians.

Youngster Brooking marks debut with hat trick

Yeovil & Sherborne 3rd 4 Beaminster 9

Channel Division One

LYDIA Brooking marked her first team debut with a hat-trick and Beaminster Ladies convincingly beat Yeovil & Sherborne 3rd's on their new pitch at Chilton Grove in Yeovil.

The hosts having won their last two games would have been hoping to have continued that run, but it was Beaminster who were quickest out of the blocks but despite all the pressure and possession could not pierce a packed D.

The tide changed for the next ten minutes with Yeovil having more of the ball, but despite this they failed to penetrate beyond the 25 yard line.

Beaminster finally broke the shackles and Brooking opened her account finishing a good team move by converting at the post.

This opened the floodgates as the visitors hit three more before the break including the pick of the goals from Hannah Dale who is in good form of late and bagged her second hat-trick of the season.

She collected the ball wide on the halfway line before cutting down the centre to fire in an early shot.

It seemed so easy as Beaminster added two more at the start of the second-half to take a 6-0 lead, such was their dominance that Phoebe Stewart, standing in for regular keeper Lisa Condliffe, hadn't yet touched the ball.

This appears to have led to a loss of concentration and shape and Yeovil hit back with two goals, the second a superb effort from veteran captain Su Johnson.

Beaminster added a ninth before Yeovil had the last say with two late salvos, but with 75 per cent of possession the Colfox-based side were never in danger.

Besides the hat-tricks from Brooking and Dales, there were goals for Andrea Thomas from a short corner routine, Danni Donovan and Lucy Herbert.

Hawks continue promotion push

BOTH West Dorset Hawks' sides continued their push for promotion with wins at the weekend.

WEST DORSET HAWKS 4 TORBAY A 1

THE Hawks made it nine games unbeaten, eight of them victories as the brushed aside Torbay A on Saturday.

The victory cements their fourth spot in South East 1, just three points behind leaders Yeovil & Sherborne A who slipped up losing to Taunton Vale C.

Bridgwater A and Sidmouth & Ottery St Mary B who are immediately above them, two points better off, both won, but the Colfox-based Hawks have a chance of taking closer order and leapfrog the latter if they can beat them in two weeks time.

ECV HORNETS 0 WEST DORSET A 3

WEST Dorset A matched their first team by making it nine games unbeaten with only one draw as they produced a superb performance in beating second placed ECV Hornets on their own ground.

They are now just two points behind their opponents and four behind South East 3 leaders Bridgwater C who they meet in two weeks time.

Bees news

Bees hit by three goal Farm barrage

WITH STUART BROOM

BRIDPORT 0 BRISTOL MANOR FARM 3

Toolstation Premier – att: 86
AFTER a goalless first half in which Bridport deserved a share of the spoils, they were hit with three goals within the first 14 minutes of the restart that saw Bristol Manor Farm maintain their assault on the Western League Toolstation Premier League title.

St Mary's had puddles on the surface on Friday night, but these had disappeared overnight and, following an early morning inspection, the pitch was passed fit. Playing against the wind the Bees made a bright start and Tom Richardson had an early chance but couldn't direct his free header on the stretch from Dan Wise's corner and it looped just over the crossbar.

Manor Farm scored after 18 minutes when George Brimson followed up to score after Ashley Weeks, standing in for Sam Filkins, had parried the initial shot from Pete Shepherd, but it was ruled out for offside.

The Portland gloveman was in good form against a side that have scored 64 times this season, and on the half hour pulled off a superb double save following a corner which was subsequently cleared.

But Bridport weren't short of efforts themselves. Ryan Dovell was foiled by keeper Ashley Clarke after being put through by Chris Clarke, but the big gloveman got down low to turn it for a corner.

The same combination saw Clarke flattened after a run, but not before laying his pass off to Dovell, but once again his shot went for a corner.

Shane Evans had a volley blocked before a Richardson overhead kick was cleared off the line by Wilshire and Jamie Filkins' effort blocked.

Unfortunately for the Bees, the wind changed around completely during the interval and increased in intensity, meaning they were facing the elements again in the second-half, and within five minutes found themselves a goal down.

Will Hailston was played through the middle and he ran on to beat the advancing Weeks.

Within five minutes it was two.

Filkins left Jordan Metters' low corner whipped into the near post believing it was going out of play.

This surprised Gary Bulman stood on the post who got a foot on it but only succeeded in diverting it against Ryan Hater and into the roof of the net.

The third goal came on the hour when a goalmouth scramble ended with Metters lifting the ball over Weeks and a mass of bodies.

The Bees keeper, who rightly won the Man-of-the-Match award, had to make another good save late on which would have been unjust on Bridport for their first-half display alone.

Bridport found it hard battling the elements and didn't create too much in the second-half.

Their best effort in a difficult second-half came just before the end from a great strike from Darren Watts. Either side of the keeper would have been a goal, but unfortunately his 20-yard volley went straight into Clarke's midriff.

Abject performance from team and referee gives Townsend blues

CRANBORNE 3 BRIDPORT RESERVES 0

Dorset Premier
BEES manager Robin Townsend was upset with both his team and the referee's performance after his side had been beaten for the second time in the Dorset Premier League this season by lowly Cranborne.

Once again the Bridport defence switched off after giving away a sloppy free-kick just before the break and Olii Hepworth took advantage to give the hosts the lead, before two refereeing decisions early in the second-half saw Cranborne benefit.

Firstly Michael Hailu was booked for dissent before Darren Lock was bundled to the floor on the edge of the penalty area as he looked to clear the free-kick.

"The momentum saw him roll into the penalty box, and when the ball ran over his arm the referee awarded a penalty to Cranborne.

Townsend said: "I thought he had given us a free-kick, but awarded Cranborne a penalty."

Dan Loader despatched the 53rd minute spot-kick past Billy Fleet.

Worse was to follow - but this time of the Bees own making.

Sam Day had already been booked for dissent when he brought down an opponent inside the box on 75 minutes.

Day was shown a second yellow card and Loader once again scored from the spot.

Townsend was in agreement with this decision, he said: "Sam had already been booked for dissent, and deserved to be sent off for the tackle he made."

"He was nowhere near the ball and it was a booking so I had no qualms with that."

On the team's overall performance he said: "I'm not sure Cranborne deserved it but we definitely gave them a helping hand."

"Our performance as a team was shocking and the players know how unhappy I am."

"I would have been absolutely furious if we had a run of games going into it, but because we'd had a break I probably gave them the benefit of the doubt."

"The only good thing to come from it was that Jack Scovell got 20 minutes under his belt after being out for so long."

BATTLE:
Nathan
Walker

Walker back on loan

NATHAN Walker has returned to The Avenue on a month's loan from Weymouth.

The 27-year-old central defender's return to Dorchester Town which was finally completed last Thursday will certainly boost the Magpies who have been having a torrid time of late, having conceded 12 goals in their three games since Christmas.

Walker was a tower of strength in the Magpies defence last season when the county town achieved their most successful season in the history finishing eight in the Conference South and reaching the second round of the FA Cup, but was a casualty of the mass clearout that took place last summer when the Community Trust took control of the club.

In recent weeks he has found it hard to maintain his place in the Terras side in competition with his older brother Michael and Sam Poole, and requested that he go out on loan.

His commanding presence and experience will boost Simkin's defence that has had to cope with the suspension of Nathan's younger brother Steve.

The reunion with Magpies skipper Mark Jermyn at the heart of the defence should bring stability as the two have played together for sometime before the move.

Simkin said: "I am delighted to have Nathan back for as well as his defensive qualities he is capable of nicking a goal or two for us at the other end. He is also

"He is also good to have around the dressing room. I have worked with him for years, and he typifies the type of player we need at the moment."

Unfortunately Simkin was unable to capitalise on Walker's return when Saturday's game at Chelmsford City was called off due to a water-logged pitch.

Return of the oldest winger in town!

DICKIE Borthwick, Britain's oldest footballer is back on the pitch, aged 78, after scoring his biggest victory in beating prostate cancer.

Dickie has enjoyed a marathon career in football since first lacing up his boots in 1947 aged 12 in his native Scotland.

However, he had to take a break from the game for a year following his diagnosis in October 2012.

He started radiotherapy the following month and got the all-clear in April last year, and defied the odds by appearing in his first match back six months later.

The oldest winger in town now only plays charity matches after his team Wyke Rangers Veterans folded.

His first match after getting the all clear was a reunion for pub footballers he had played with over the years.

Weymouth-based Dickie, who has played 1,600 matches for 11 non-league clubs was recognised for his efforts in Dorset Football with a special achievement award by the Dorset FA.
